

PRODUCT OVERVIEW

MAXIMUM MOBILITY™ M² STRUCTURAL GEAR

Your job is tough. When seconds are critical and lives are on the line, we want you to be safe, comfortable, and more flexible to get your job done. Our Maximum Mobility (M²) design provides a greater range of motion and comfort than any other gear on the market.

Maximum mobility implements cutting edge technology with ergonomic engineering that works with the dynamics of your body, not a mannequin. The results are fabric patterns designed to reduce binding, tightening, rising, bulk, and restrictiveness, all of which contribute to discomfort, exhaustion, muscle fatigue, hobbling, and heat stress. We offer you a design to provide fit, comfort, and mobility throughout all three layers of your turnout gear.

Ricochet has developed several packages that combine features and fabric components to meet your needs and your price point.

USAR/TECHNICAL RESCUE

This Dual NFPA 1951/1999 certified Technical Rescue gear from Ricochet is a combination of a tough outer shell with abrasion and flame resistance, and a strong moisture barrier that offers bloodborne pathogen and limited chemical protection. An added bonus is protection from the elements, including inclement weather

An added benefit of this Ricochet dual-certified gear is for firefighters to have a lighter, less expensive, but fully protected garment, for nearly any call other than structural firefighting. There is no reason why you can't be safe, protected, AND comfortable, at an affordable price.

EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERVICES

Ricochet EMS gear provides some of the most comfortable, breathable, and protective EMS garments available. With superior liquid and bloodborne pathogen protection while still being vapor permeable and certified to NFPA 1999, Ricochet is the premium choice for EMS PPE.

Ricochet offers both FR and non-FR garments, along with options that include multiple fabric, design, color, and feature choices. We also work to protect you from the elements with an optional removable Polartec fleece warmth liner, as well as full customization options to meet your specific demands and requirements.
